About this book

This book is written by the Department of Health and Human Services.

This book tells you about sleep for babies
aged 3 - 6 months.

How much sleep is normal?

Your baby will sleep 10 - 18 hours per day.

Your baby will

- stay asleep for 2 - 3 hours at a time

- nap around 3 times in the day.

Every baby is different so your baby might sleep a bit more or less.

Feeding

Feeding can help babies sleep.

Feeding means you give your newborn

- breastmilk

or

- formula.

Sleep will not change if your newborn has breast milk or formula.

To help your baby learn to sleep on their own

- play and talk with your baby after feeding so they stay awake

- put your baby in the cot when you think they are tired.
